

Edith Kanakanaka'ole

(1892-1926)

Kumu Hula and Community Leader

Edith Kanaka'ole was a native Hawaiian composer, chanter, dancer, and champion for the preservation of native Hawaiian culture and arts. Kanaka'ole led the highly celebrated dance school, Hālau o Kekuhi, where her legacy as a Kumua Hula, or chief practitioner of traditional Hawaiian dance and culture, lives on.

Photo by Franco Salmoiraghi, 1976.
Courtesy of the Edith Kanaka'ole Foundation.

Learn more at
womenshistory.org/education-resources/biographies/edith-kanakaole

National Women's History Museum